

MODERN "FAGIN" RAVED AND SWORE

Simon Creusstoff, Convicted of Teaching Boys to Steal, Creates Scene in Court When He Is Sentenced.

TRIED TO HURL INK-STAND AT JUSTICE ZELLER.

Cursed the Court and Fought with Police—Year in Penitentiary and $500 Fine the Dose He Got.

Struggling in the grasp of a half dozen policemen, shouting epithets at his judges, Simon Creusstoff, a modern "Fagin," was today sentenced to the penitentiary for one year and to pay a fine of $500 by Justice Zeller in Special Sessions.

In every respect Creusstoff acted after conviction as Dickens described the way Fagin conducted himself after his arrest and conviction. He raved and swore at his captors and in his frenzy seized an inkstand and hurled it at the Justices who sent him to prison.

Creusstoff lived at No. 83 Ridge street. He was arrested a week ago by Agent William J. Fogarty, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, acting with the officers of the Hebrew Educational Alliance. A dozen small boys ranging from eight to twelve years ago were arrested with Creusstoff in a room at No. 122 Norfolk street, which he had fitted up as a school in which to teach the boys the art of picking pockets.

How He Taught the Boys.

In court today one of the boys, Israel Levine, eleven years old, of No. 118 Orchard street, described to the three Justices how the modern Fagin had taught them to steal. With Supt. Jenkins, of the Children's Society, young Levine illustrated to the Court how proficient he had become after a few weeks' tuition by Creusstoff.

Mr. Jenkins placed a pocketbook in his inside coat pocket. With a few dexterous movements of his hands, Levine extracted the pocketbook with the deftness of a magician. "Creusstoff taught us all these tricks," Levine testified, "and told us to look out for women especially, as they were easy. I have been stealing now nearly three months and have given all I got to Creusstoff. He induced me to leave my home and every night I sleep at his home."

Mr. Axman, of the Hebrew Educational Alliance, told the Court that Creusstoff had lured away from the Alliance school a score or more of pupils, all of whom he had made thieves.

Nearest Thief on Record. "You are the nearest thief on record," remarked Justice Zeller, "and the Court finds you guilty."

Creusstoff was wild with anger. "You're a pack of dogs. You can go to—"

A half dozen policemen grabbed the infuriated rogue. Seizing an inkstand Creusstoff tried to throw it at Justice Zeller, but he shouted at the Justice, "You're a pack of dogs. You can go to—"

The boys arrested with Creusstoff were committed to the custody of the Children's Society.

JERRY SULLIVAN, WHO IS MISSING FROM HIS HOME.

BOY MISSING AFTER GOING TO CHURCH

Jerry Sullivan Went to Mass Sunday Morning at St. James's, but His Parents Haven't Seen Him Since.

Nothing has been seen or heard of thirteen-year-old Jerry Sullivan since he went to mass at St. James's Church, in James street, Sunday morning. The lad left the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sullivan, No. 79 Oliver street, about 11 o'clock. He was seen at mass, but at the church all traces of him ended. His mother does not believe he ran away from home, as he was a quiet, contented boy. She fears he is either lost or went swimming and was drowned.

Jerry was dressed in a white waist and blue trousers and wore a blue cloth cap.

SENATOR CLARK WESTWARD BOUND

Returns from Europe Entirely Recovered from Effects of Operation—Thinks Parker Will Be Nominated.

Among the passengers on the Teutonic of the White Star line, which arrived today, was Senator William A. Clark, of Montana. The Senator had been abroad since April, and while in Italy underwent an operation on the neck, from which he is now entirely recovered. Mr. Clark was met at the pier by his daughter, Mrs. Culver. He will depart tonight for St. Louis, go from there to Arizona for a visit and thence to Montana.

"The main topic in Europe at this time," said the Senator, "is the way Germany is supplying the Russian forces with artillery. It is considered significant in view of the fact that Germany is regarded as the sworn enemy of Russia."

Asked as to his opinion concerning the Democratic nomination for President, the Senator said: "I can't talk politics, but it looks to me as if Parker would be nominated—don't you think so?"

GETS DIVORCE FROM ACTOR-HUSBAND

Mrs. Harry Corson Clarke May Now Resume Her Maiden Name of Alice Deming, After Six Years of Matrimony.

Mrs. Alice Deming Clarke, who lives with her twin sister, Miss Adelaide Deming, at the Hotel St. Andrew, Broadway and Seventy-second street, received today from Justice Glider, of the Supreme Court, an interlocutory decree, which frees her from Harry Corson Clarke, the actor-manager, to whom she was married Feb. 9, 1898.

Mrs. Clarke named a Miss Hathaway, a guest at the time at the Hotel St. Andrew, and Margaret Dale Owen as the causes of her matrimonial trouble, but no testimony was presented against Miss Owen, who was charged in the complaint with durling with Clarke at Seattle, Wash.

Bridget McCarthy, the chambermaid, testified that on the night of March 12, 1901, she surprised Miss Hathaway in Mr. Clarke's room. There was a stormy scene next day, and the actor-manager went away with his company, never to return.
